GEORGIA'S IRON INTERESTS.

Remarkable Investment of a Prominent N. Y. Capitalist.

The most important fact for this section, brought by last week's telegrams, was that Mr. John Inman and his associates had made a large investment in Birmingham. The scheme involved in this investment is a gigantic one. It will require $4,000,000 in each. B-sides running the immense furnaces and mines already in the property, four new coal furnaces and a new Bessemer steel furnace will be built and three new coal mines opened. The more fact, however, that Mr. Inman has staked so large an amount on the future of Southern iron-making is more important than the material improvements that come with the investment can possibly be. There is no man in this country who has the confidence of investors in North and South alike to equal extent with Mr. John H. Inman. His command of money in New York is almost unlimited. His following in the South is as large and quite as earnest, if not so heavy. From Galveston to Richmond he could command the unbroken support of the best, most liberal and progressive elements of the South, and nowhere to fuller degree than in Atlanta.

It is curious to recount what he has done in the way of developing Southern interests. He invested nearly $2,000,000 in the Tennessee Coal and Iron Company; he is one of the strongest directors in the Louisville and Nashville Railway system; he is the moneyed power back of the Macon and Covington road; he loaned the Georgia Pacific Company $250,000 when it was in straits, and afterward took about $2,000,000 of its bonds; he is a director and leading influence in the Richmond and Danville Railway system; he took the entire loan of Atlanta 4 per cent and made the first bid for the Georgia State loan of $24,000; he has over $200,000 invested in Atlanta real estate and securities, and now lays an investment of $4,000,000 at the gates of Birmingham.

What a miracle of courage, sagacity and success his career has been! Less than twenty years ago he went into New York, a rebel boy, in an antebellum suit which had not been put where moth does not corrupt, and then had not more than $100 in money and property. He has now a fortune of several millions, is director in instances that aggregate more than Vanderbilt's wealth, and has been instrumental in having brought the South more money than he had dollars when he left her, bearing nothing but the knighthood that she laid with loving hands on his well-worn cap of gray.—Atlanta Constitution.

Cure for Piles.
Piles are frequently preceded by a sense of weight in the back, loins and lower part of the abdomen, causing the patient to suppose that some affection of the kidneys or neighboring organs. THIS PAPER is kept on file at the Advertising Agency, 64 and 65 Merchants' Exchange, San Francisco, Cal., where contracts for advertising can be made for it.

Herald Steam Printing House.

The HERALD Steam Printing House is not equipped by any job printing office on the Pacific Coast, outside of San Francisco, in facilities for doing job work. Low prices, good work and execution may be relied upon in this office.

Special Notice.
Important notices of companies, societies, etc., will only be inserted in the HERALD as paid advertisements. We reserve for places of worship a gratuitous directory which will appear every Sunday morning.

The HERALD office is connected with the telephone system of Los Angeles city and county. Orders for advertisements or job work may be sent through this medium to number 155.

The HERALD is the official paper of the city of Los Angeles. The city delinquent tax lists and all other municipal notices appear only in its columns.

Dr. H. N. Howe is the Santa Ana agent of the HERALD.

Temporary Retirement.
During the current canvass Mr. Joseph D. Lynch, the Democratic nominee for Congress, in the Sixth District, will surrender the editorial supervision of the HERALD.The Issue in 1886.
Some weeks ago we pointed out the fact that the Republican party is now in a position where it must declare itself unequivocally on the liquor question—as they falaciously call the issue. The Prohibitionists have that party in the door, and will make it come to terms on pain of being crushed. Maine had to adopt straight Prohibition, or it would have been lost. The same is true of Pennsylvania. Massachusetts has been saved by the same means. In Indiana the Anti-saloon measure was used as the thin edge of the wedge. The policy, judging by the results, must command itself to the Republican party. Recently in Chicago, an Anti-saloon convention was held, and among those prominent in its deliberations were Mr. Windom, of Minnesota. He is a Republican, and one of its great prominence that he has served as a United States Senator, as a Cabinet officer, and was a candidate for nomination for the Presidency. By his side in this Anti-saloon convention sat Senator Blair. They were the leading lights of that gathering. Yesterday the press dictates brought news of a second convention of this sort in the city of Chicago. Anyone who read this item could not fail to notice the close connection the meeting bore to the Republican party; how many prominent men of that party were named in that connection, and how frequent reference was had to the policy and achievements of that party. Simultaneously with this comes the news of a circular sent from San Francisco, and distributed at the Brooklyn bridge and at every ferry-landing in New York, calling for the formation of a Native American party, and the repeal of all naturalization laws. Here are the twin lines of the policy to be pursued, by the Republican party in 1886. Much will depend on developments as to the precise form these measures shall be cast in. As at they will be the straight issues, or the serviceable side-shows, cannot be doubted. It is marvellous how generally they command themselves to the average Republican mind, as soon as named. Anyone can ascertain this by an hour's effort on the streets. Anti-liquor principles in some definite shape are more than likely to be made part of the party platform. The Know Nothing affair may be used only for use as an available side-show for the time being. These, with the tariff question, are to be the great war cries of the Republicans, and it is on these issues they will have to meet.

On the Know Nothing business there is no preparation to make. That issue was fought out once, and buried in Bill Poole's grave. The way to deal with it is known. The action of the next Congress in the reform of present tariff abuses will do much or little, as the case may be, in the contest on that question.

There is little apprehension to be entertained on the two propositions discussed above. The gravest difficulty surrounds the Anti-liquor affair. It is out of the question that the Republican party should go in for straight prohibition. It must be put in the form of an Anti-saloon measure, with a promise to the advocates of straight cold water of a more direct issue in their line at a future time. Such concession would, no doubt, be accepted as a victory by nine-tenths of all the Prohibitionists in the country.

Now, heretofore in dealing with it many Democrats, and intelligent members of the party, have been misled by a false presentation of the subject. In this city, by a persistent crying aloud of the fallacy that the Democracy was making itself the champion of Gus Leonard and the "Monkey Saloon," many in the party were blinded to the true issue. It must not be forgotten that the "Anti-saloon" cognomen is not the true name of the measure. It does not stand for the object in mind. It is a sneaking, cowardly form of reaching prohibition. We do not mean to say that all Republicans have this as an ultimate goal in view. The vast majority of the party have not that in their mind at all. But the greater part of Republicans are not in favor of the Anti-saloon measure at all.

It is simply that the Prohibitionists have mounted the back of the "God and morality" party, and intend to ride it into their camp, or ride it to the devil. The cold-water people know they have the power to do this, and they will use that power with satisfaction to one destination or the other. They may take the "Anti-saloon" tub thrown out to them in desperation for one campaign, but that tub once disposed of, the Prohibition people will go for the boat, and finally for the ship herself. They are fighting for a "moral principle," as they think; and the man with that idea in his brain is a bad subject to conquer.

There seems but one course for the Democracy to pursue. That is to stand firmly on the true American principle of individual rights, and opposition to sumptuary laws of Puritanical origin. Let not the ground of combat be narrowed. We must insist on the broad, general principle. It is not the championship of any class of men, nor of any particular branch of business. It is the championship of personal rights. It may be that is attacked. It may be a crusade against white flour, and to compel us all to adopt the Graham heresy, that is instituted. This is all to the Democratic party. The Democracy stands for the rights of the individual, against all sumptuary measures. A man is his own custodian, outside of the rights of others. By the broad principles of genuine Americanism he eats what he pleases, drinks what he likes, and wears what clothes suit his taste and his means, spends Sunday and Monday as his fancy may lead him, is responsible to himself, and to no one else. If he fails it is his own loss, if he succeeds and is a good-hearted fellow he will share with his neighbor. But, above all, he is a man, with a man's rights, and not to be overridden in his acts by any narrow or cranky notions of the best of goody-goody people in the world.

EXAMINATION will teach an amiable evening contemporary that the HERALD said that under Democratic rule in the simpler days of the Republic, "class distinctions in politics were unknown." It will also learn that we expressed some doubt as to the possibility of bringing the Nation speedily back into the line followed before its party got into power. Had it the opportunity of knowing the man, it might learn also that the millionaire referred to in its remarks is far from "ignorant." There are plenty of really "ignorant" people who know the rules of grammar, and there are many people far from "ignorant" who do not know all of Lindley Murray or any of his successors by heart. The person called "ignorant" by our contemporary in its own "ignorance" of the man, is most thoroughly informed on most of the practical affairs of life. Had the world believed the Republican press, Cleveland was a brutal Sheriff who took delight in hanging men. He would also have been "ignorant." The President made a speech the other day at "Old Harvard" which was really elegant in diction and profound in thought. As to whom the HERALD is to support for the Senate is by no means clearly defined yet. We will assure our neighbor, for its own relief, that it will support the best man in the field regardless of class distinctions, and it will not be the man the Republican party made so great an effort to secure, because one of its bosses, Mr. C. P. Huntington, told the leaders he was worth any six men in the Senate to the millionaire interests.

NORTHERN papers are much exercised about imaginary election frauds in the South. A morning contemporary rambles aimlessly through these "dreams, idle dreams." Facts and figures, it alleges, have been published time and again. It is greatly exercised because the Democrats of the country do not take all these down without salt. Now, inasmuch as the facts and figures emanate from the most fertile, but badly regulated fancy of Mr. Blaine, "intent only on a political triumph," our side of the house is not likely to be greatly impressed with them. The fact in there is not one syllable to corroborate these misstatements. The South is getting along most excellently. The negro is getting along well. He prefers vastly to vote for his old master, Wade Hampton, than for Carpet-bagger Moses. Why, even in Uncle Tom's Cabin, untutored "Topsy" loathes "Aunt Ophelia." The negro votes as he pleases in the South, and he naturally votes with his old master, and his present employer. He finds it the right thing and does it. If our neighbor will interest itself to get a Republican Board of Supervisors to divide the White House precinct in this city, so that voters need not stand an hour to get up to the ballot-box, and so that a couple of hundred citizens are not debarred the right of suffrage, it will be engaged in a matter it may know something about, and which will be practical. The South, we assure all anxious minds, is doing well.

THE CITY COUNCIL, if it will, can do a great public good by re-districting the White House precinct, so that voters there shall not be practically disfranchised at the coming election. This is in Mr. Kuhl's ward. That gentleman is noted for being always in sympathy with the people. Will he bring this matter up next Monday and press action upon it, so that his own constituents may be allowed to vote?

NOTHING has come to light since Thursday night touching the situation in the Sixth Congressional District. Just before the HERALD went to press on Friday came a telegram of a gain in Fresno of nine votes for Mr. Lynch. This leaves Gen. Van derver just 290 to get from Alpine and San Diego to tie. The HERALD has been at the utmost pains to get the facts as early as possible, and has given them frankly to the public. We defy any one to show where this journal has intimated otherwise than that the contest was a very close one. At one point we ventured to hope Mr. Lynch's plurality might be 200. It is now very evident that it will be a much closer contest. We are still of the belief that the Democratic candidate will represent us in the Fifty-fifth Congress of the Nation.

POLITICS will never be what they should be, and will never be free from abuses until the professional politician is got rid of. The people want to take more direct interest in the selection of their law-makers and administrators. The politician who must be fed at the crib or starve should be relegated to the latter alternative. Practical men with knowledge of affairs, men who have shown their capacity for work by doing work well for themselves, are the best men for office. So long as the voter elects the regular political hack to office, who has no capacity for anything beyond drawing his salary, the government of the Nation will need reform. It all rests with the citizens to remedy these evils.

RAILROAD matters hereabouts are becoming decidedly active. The HERALD elsewhere to-day recounts much preliminary skirmishing in this line. There is not a shadow of doubt that the next year is destined to witness very great developments in railroad building into Los Angeles. A second trunk line, with numerous feeders, between here and the East will be set in motion. The outlet to connect with the ocean will be at La Ballona Slough, soon to be known as La Ballona Harbor. By the close of 1887 the coast line to San Francisco will also be completed. Prosperity in Los Angeles has only begun.

LOS ANGELES, having just passed through the throes of one election, is on the eve of another. The contest for the municipal offices will take place next month. The excitement of the late campaign has eclipsed that coming on. But, we must not forget that the city offices and the administration of the city government are very important matters. Should the Democratic party come before the people in proper shape, they can easily carry the city in the December election. Let us get our armor and weapons in order, and make the fight gallantly.

TELEGRAPHIC dispatches in the HERALD relating to the excitement prevailing in San Francisco over the brutal and cowardly murderer of the innocent child, Mamie Kelley, do the heart good. This manifestation of indignation shows that the heart of humanity is still in the right place.

RAILROAD ENTERPRISE.

The New Movements on Foot and Contemplated.

The coast line branch of the Southern Pacific railroad is making rapid progress from Newhall towards Ventura. The track is now laid almost to the Camulos ranch, over nine miles from Newhall. The bridge builders are busy spanning the Cañon creek, but meantime a temporary track has been laid on the proposed side. Locators are down along the line, half way between the Camulos and San Buenaventura city. All the work is progressing very rapidly, and the city by the sea in Ventura will have its railroad by the end of the year. It will run from San Luis Obispo and Santa Barbara, and in the spring the work will be resumed on the San Luis Obispo end. There will be activity also in the country, and the railroad will rise in value, new towns will be built, and the products of the country will be doubled.

News comes that the work on the Arlington and Los Angeles Railroad, via the Santa Ana Valley and Anaheim, has been resumed. A large force of men are at work front and back of the line. This will connect with the Los Angeles and La Balona road, for which a franchise has been secured. The slough has been stopped, and in the spring the road is certain to begin. Then there is a new line being located from San Bernardino to this city, via the San Gabriel mountains, the San Joaquin, and the San Gabriel Valley. News of the inception of this work came to us from San Bernardino a few days ago. Yesterday tents equipped with beds were set up in the center of the San Gabriel Valley to house the workmen. The road is laid out to hug the foot-hills and the new project will be completed in time to connect with the U. S. R. Y. from San Bernardino to Los Angeles, will run about midway between the crank road and the S. P. track. This will bring the San Bernardino valley road through the upper San Gabriel valley. It will pass not far from Covina. The lines are not yet laid, and it is reported that work will begin at once.

This is good news for the people of Southern California. An era of railroad building is always one of great prosperity. A railroad always increases the value of a town, and population will increase greatly all over the country. The last four years of the decade will see even greater prosperity than that we have been used to, the six years of the last of which is one of the most prosperous.
